Friday Projections. Take them for what they are worth. (Adjusted power rankings and mostly the same pace ratings as last year).

They'll get better as more games are played.

Thanks Ed.
I am on FAU PK, Long Beach -12 and 'Cuse -25 with a lean on Evansville +3 (although I hate to go against Butler so probably will pass)

Nice. I like that team this year. They should win that conference.

I agree. They return 5 starters from a 27-9 team (13-5 conf). Plus they get back Brown who got injured in preseason practice last year. Hopefully they go under the radar early so we can make some $$

Nice job Jim. Stay hot.

Red. I'm trying to automate the site more so I don't have to manually do the projections every day. That will hopefully help as right now it's a ton of work daily. I'll do the best I can.

Agree about waiting on the move. I just knew I wasn't going to be around until halftime to post the play, so I just posted the line I saw early this morning. Hopefully they get the job done in the second half.

Didn't have time to run all the projections manually then transfer over to post. I just got home awhile ago. For anyone who's looking for projections go here and run any game you'd like. (NCAA Mens Basketball in the pull down menu)

http://nationalsportsrankings.com/index.php?option=com_predi ctor&Itemid=40

In the next few days I hope to have something online to help make my life easier. Plus make it easier for people to find daily projections. My programmer and I are setting up a daily page with all the projections for all the sports. I'll upload the schedule, then the program will automatically run every game through my models, and the user will be able to view the games on 1 page. It will probably take a few days to iron out the kinks, but in the long run it will be cleaner looking and less labor intensive for me.

I'm spreading myself too thin trying to update these teams manually, then run the games, then post them across multiple platforms to promote my work. Plus trying to handicap the games. When I'm updating the daily results I'm finding value with my projections, but my schedule is not allowing me enough time to properly go over every single game as I'd like.

For now use the link above if you are looking for any particular game. I just can't keep up with everything and have time to properly handicap the games as I'd like as it's currently set up. Any questions ask.

I mentioned above that I was working on a way to make getting these projections for the games easier. Here's a link to a calender that will run all of the days games for all sports with just one click.

http://nationalsportsrankings.com/index.php?option=com_predc al

If you don't see a game or a game is listed incorrect use the single game predictor to run the game.

It's been quite a task trying to track down schedules for all sports in the format that was easy to use. Some of the sports are very accurate, others, like college basketball, are missing in season tournament games. I'll try to add the missing games and they will be listed at the bottom of the ncaa mens games.

Note that ALL of this week's college football match ups are listed on the 25th if anyone is interested. I just noticed the full season schedule I found had the incorrect date.

47 points in 2h before they go to overtime. In the last 2 minutes of ot, TWO guys were fouled shooting 3's and then Oklahoma st made 3's on consecutive possessions with less than a minute left. Worst part was I was still under the total and need a game winning 2 to end it. Negative. It goes to double ot. Brutal
